

POLITICAL SCIENCE, ECONOMICS AND GLOBAL STUDIES

The Political Science and Economics Department is home to four different majors: Political Science, Economics, Global and International Studies, and Middle Eastern Studies. Political Scientists aim to develop an understanding of the institutions, practices, and societal relations that constitute public life. Economists study society and the distribution of resources, including how people make decisions, how they interact, and how the economy as a whole works. Global and International Studies scholars seek to understand the multidimensional process of globalization and today's many global issues. The field of Middle East Studies focuses on the history, politics, cultures, religions and languages of one of the most complex and critical regions of the world. Please see the individual program descriptions below for more details about each area of major/ program.

Political Science: Program Description

The study of politics is the study of how people are governed and how they govern themselves. Political Scientists examine the distribution of political power and the allocation of scarce resources. To this end, they aim to develop an understanding of the institutions, practices, and societal relations that constitute public life. As a discipline, in the West, Political Science originated with the Greeks. Today Political Scientists' study of governments includes an in-depth study of the American political experience, but also extends to other countries, both democracies and non-democracies, and the effort to understand differences and similarities between them. Furthermore, Political Scientists seek to understand the dynamics of cooperation and conflict in the international arena, by studying the interactions of states, international organizations, and non-governmental actors.

The Political Science major helps prepare students for a variety of careers. For example, Political Science serves well as a pre-law major and for related professions, such as careers in government at the federal, state or local levels. Political Science is also a great preparation for a number of careers at the international level, such as international diplomacy or international business, as well as other professions in non-governmental sectors both nationally and internationally.

Political Science: AA and AA-T Degree Requirements

We offer a Political Science Associate Degree (AA), and Political Science Associate Degree for Transfer (AA-T). Major requirements for transfer vary depending upon the college or university a student wishes to attend. Therefore, it is most important for a student to consult with his/her counselor and departmental adviser before planning an academic program for transfer. Information on majors and transfer requirements is available in the Counseling Center and Transfer Center.

Political Science: Planning a Program of Study

Students should begin their study of Political Science with POLS 101 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20101>) American Government And Politics because many of the basic concepts of the discipline are introduced here within the familiar context of American Politics. Thereafter, the selection of courses will, in part, depend upon the four-year school to which the student plans to transfer and the particular emphasis of the student's major. Commonly required courses include POLS 121 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20121>) International Politics, POLS 131 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/> search/?P=POLS%20131) Comparative Politics, POLS 132 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20132>) Political Thinking. The Department offers a course in POLS 104 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20104>) American Government: Policy Issues/Process. Our Honors courses include POLS 121H (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20121H>) International Politics, and POLS 134H (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20134H>) Political Violence, Honors.

The Political Science Department also encourages students to seek out an internship, or participate in an Internship Programs, as related to POLS 295 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20295>) and to POLS 108, which includes a field trip to Sacramento. More information about internship courses can be found below, in the section "Political Science (All Programs) and Economics: Internships."

Political Science: Preparation for Transfer

Course requirements for transfer vary depending upon the college or university a student wishes to attend. Therefore, it is most important for a student to consult with a counselor and departmental adviser before planning an academic program for transfer. Information on majors and transfer requirements is available in the Counseling Center and Transfer Center.

Political Science: Awards and Honors

Each year, the faculty selects one student as the "Outstanding Student of the Year in Political Science" on the basis of academic performance and contribution to our program. Students also have the opportunity to apply for a number of Political Science scholarships, such as the Holmes Scholarship, the Jason Davidson scholarship, the John Kay scholarship, and the Manoutchehr Eskandari-Qajar scholarship.

Economics: Program Description

The Economics Program offers courses as part of an Associate of Arts Degree in Economics as well as other majors. Economics is also a worthwhile way to satisfy General Education requirements. Courses offer transfer students excellent preparation for further study in economics and fields such as environmental studies, global studies, and business.

Students from all disciplines benefit from taking economics courses as it helps make sense of the world in which they live. As a social science, the subject matter studied is society. This includes the study of how people make decisions, how they interact, and how the economy as a whole works. Economics addresses much more than just money, taxes, and unemployment. With an economic lens, one can analyze things such as policies that affect crime rates, the role of incentives on the decision of whether or not to drive an electric car, and how rent control can affect divorce rates. In fact, economics helps one understand nearly every aspect of human life.

Economics provides a systematic way of analyzing a wide range of societal issues. The arsenal of analytical tools students acquire by studying economics provide a foundation for lifelong problem-solving skills that are valued by employers, society, and, very likely, eventually by the student themselves.

Economics: AA and AA-T Degree Requirements

The department offers an Economics Associate Degree (AA), and an Economics Associate Degree for Transfer (AA-T). Major requirements for transfer vary depending upon the college or university a student wishes to attend. Therefore, it is most important for a student to consult with his/her counselor and departmental advisor before planning an academic program for transfer. Information on majors and transfer requirements is available in the Counseling Center and Transfer Center.

Economics: Planning a Program of Study

As a general rule, students should begin their Economics major by taking ECON 101 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=ECON%20101>) Microeconomics and ECON 102 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=ECON%20102>) Macroeconomics, in either order. Additional courses should be chosen after consultation with an academic counselor to meet degree and transfer goals, as the requirements for the AA Economics degree and the AA-T Economics degree differ, and as transfer institutions may also have specific requirements. ECON 101H and ECON 102H are offered as part of the Honors Program. The department encourages students to seek out internships and register for ECON 295 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=ECON%20295>) Internship In Economics as part of the college experience. More information about internship courses can be found below, in the section "Political Science (All Programs) and Economics: Internships."

Each year, the faculty selects one student as the "Outstanding Student of the Year in Economics" on the basis of academic performance and contribution to our program.

Global and International Studies, and Global Leadership: Program Descriptions

The world seems to become "smaller" at an accelerated pace. Rise in global trade, rapid advances in technology, communication and international travel, a growing body of international law, and transnational environmental problems have been creating an increasingly connected world. This process has become known as "globalization."

The Global and International Studies major helps students develop an understanding of how globalization continues to evolve. It also aims to provide an academic background that prepares students to enter today's many career fields, which require knowledge of global problems, connections, actors, and processes. Examples of possible career fields include: careers in diplomacy and/ or with an international organization, careers with many types of non-governmental organizations, careers in the economics/ business field, and in the fields of journalism, research, and teaching. Many other fields, such as engineering, and health, also benefit from a global perspective.

Global Studies is an interdisciplinary major that draws from a variety of academic disciplines. These disciplines include, but are not limited to: Political Science, History, Communication, Economics, Business, Sociology, and Environmental Studies. Combining these diverse disciplines into one interdisciplinary, colorful major - in order to understand the complex, rapidly unfolding process of globalization - is the objective of our program.

Global and International Studies, and Global Leadership: AA and AA-T Degree Requirements

We offer a Global and International Studies Associate Degree (AA), and a Global Studies Associate Degree for Transfer (AA-T). Furthermore, in collaboration with the Department of Communication, we offer a Global Leadership Associate Degree (AA), and a Global Leadership Certificate.

Major requirements for transfer vary depending upon the college or university a student wishes to attend. Therefore, it is most important for a student to consult with his/her counselor and departmental adviser before planning an academic program for transfer. Information on majors and transfer requirements is available in the Counseling Center and Transfer Center.

Global and International Studies, and Global Leadership: Planning a Program of Study

For the Global and International Studies Associate Degree (AA), and the Global Studies Associate Degree for Transfer (AA-T), students should begin their study of Global Studies by taking GLST 101 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=GLST%20101>) Introduction to Global Studies, and GLST 102 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=GLST%20102>) Global Problems (in either order). Students should also enroll in POLS 121 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20121>) International Politics or POLS 121H (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20121H>) International Politics, Honors, and/or POLS 131 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20131>) Comparative Politics. Additional elective courses from various disciplines should be chosen after consultation with an academic counselor to meet degree and transfer goals. The course in international governance, POLS 122 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20122>) International Organizations: Global and Regional Governance is a good choice, but there are many courses from which to choose.

For the Global Leadership Associate Degree (AA), and the Global Leadership Certificate, students should enroll in GLST 101 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=GLST%20101>) Introduction to Global Studies and in GLST 102 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=GLST%20102>) Global Problems (in either order), as well as choose two Communication courses from the following: COMM 121 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=COMM%20121>) Interpersonal Communication, COMM 121H (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=COMM%20121H>) Interpersonal Communication, Honors, COMM 122 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=COMM%20122>) Mediated Interpersonal Communication, COMM 142 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=COMM%20142>) Leadership in a Global Society, or COMM 151 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=COMM%20151>) Intercultural Communication. Additional elective courses from various disciplines should be chosen after consultation with an academic counselor to meet degree and transfer goals.

Global and International Studies, and Global Leadership: Preparation for Transfer

A number of colleges and universities have transfer programs in Global and International Studies and/or International Studies, or International Relations. Course requirements for transfer vary depending upon the college or university a student wishes to attend. Therefore, it is most important for a student to consult with a counselor and departmental adviser before planning an academic program for transfer. Information sheets for majors, outlining transfer requirements, are available in the Counseling and Transfer Centers.

Global and International Studies: Honors and Awards

Each year, the faculty selects one outstanding student as the "Global and International Studies Student of the Year" on the basis of academic performance and contribution to our program. In addition, each Spring Semester, the Global Studies Program awards the "Peter O. Haslund Global Studies Scholarship", a scholarship made possible by a generous donation by Mrs. Margareta Jamner in honor of the founder of the Global Studies Program at SBCC. Dr. Peter Haslund is given on the basis of both academic promise and financial need. This scholarship is administered by the SBCC Foundation. Please contact the Financial Aid Office for more information.

Middle East Studies: Program Description

The Middle East Studies Program/major involves the study of the history, politics, cultures, religions and languages of one of the most complex and critical regions of the world. The Middle East Studies major seeks to understand the question of democratization, political violence, the role of religion, ideology, and the role of tradition and history in shaping the physical and psychological make-up of the region. While the program is of special interest to students who plan careers in government service or business, majoring in Middle East Studies meshes with and complements well other areas of study, such as International Relations, Global Studies, Political Science, History and International Business, to name a few.

Career choices include State Department area specialist, Department of Defense area specialist, Homeland Security area specialist, diplomatic service (national and international), policy adviser, policy analyst, federal, state and local government service and teaching. This major with a B.A. Degree can lead to advanced degree programs in Middle East Studies, International Relations, Comparative Politics and Global Studies.

Middle East Studies: AA Degree Requirements

We offer a Middle East Studies Associate Degree (AA). This degree can be obtained by satisfying the department requirements in Middle East Studies and the General Education and institutional requirements for the Associate in Arts Degree.

Middle East Studies: Planning a Program of Study

As a general rule, students should begin their Middle East Studies Program by taking one of the three core courses required for the major, either ART 216 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=ART%20216>) Survey Of Islamic Art And Architecture, HIST 137 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=HIST%20137>) History Of Religions Of The Middle East or HIST 138 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=HIST%20138>) History Of The Modern Middle East, or POLS 136 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20136>) Middle East Government And Politics. Students should continue taking one of the core classes per semester and adding at least one of the additional classes from the list above over the course of two years to complete their 18 required units in the program for the A.A. in Middle East Studies. Students are also encouraged, but not required, to take one of the languages for the program, either Arabic or Hebrew. Students transferring to UCSB's Middle East Studies Program should complete ART 216 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=ART%20216>) Survey Of Islamic Art And Architecture, HIST 137 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=HIST%20137>) History Of Religions Of The Middle East or HIST 138 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=HIST%20138>) History Of The Modern Middle East, or POLS 136 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=POLS%20136>) Middle East Government And Politics and ARBC 101 (<https://catalog.sbccc.edu/search/?P=ARBC%20101>) Beginning Modern Standard Arabic I sequence at SBCC.

Middle East Studies: Preparation for Transfer

SBCC's Middle East Studies Program is fully articulated with the UC and CSU systems. Students in the program will have satisfied most if not all lower division requirements for the respective majors at four-year schools, such as UCSB's Islamic and Near Eastern Studies Program and major. Course requirements for transfer vary depending upon the college or university a student wishes to attend. Therefore, it is most important for a student to consult with a counselor and departmental adviser before planning an academic program for transfer. Information on majors and transfer requirements is available in the Counseling Center and Transfer Center.
